

All Tips and Gratuities made to or left for employees are distributed to employees in a manner that has been agreed with employees.

The business shares the amount among all employees equally.